

THE HATON GATES AMERICAN MUSICIAN HONORED---AT RESORT HOTELS

Pleasure Seeking Crowds Filling Atlantic City

Hotels at the Seashore Well
Patronized by Autumn
Arrivals.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Oct. 14. — This resort is soon to have the joint convention of the American Hardware Manufacturers Association and the National Hardware Association, the jobbers' organization, which annually holds its sessions at the Marlborough-Blenheim Hotel.

All the problems affecting the hardware industry will be contemplated at this convention during the coming week by business men representing invested capital of hundreds of millions of dollars. The first general meeting of the convention will be on Tuesday evening. One of the special addresses will be delivered by H. H. Morse of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce of the Department of Commerce, whose theme will be "The Department of Commerce Under Secretary Hoover."

The unusually mild weather that prevailed this week made surf bathing enjoyable for many, especially the delegates, many of whom came from interior towns in various parts of the country. In accordance with custom the city authorities have kept the life guard on duty while the weather is warm enough for bathing in the sea. Twelve guards patrolled the strand all week.

Southerners from New York at the hotel recently included: Mr. and Mrs. John W. Finch, Miss Mary E. Schiffer, Miss Harriet E. Harris, Mr. Edward E. Hoyer, Mrs. J. E. Violinist Honored by France Was Boy Prodigy of Far West

Louis Planel, Long a Resident of Paris, Made Officer of the Legion of Honor, a Californian by Birth.

Special Correspondence to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

PARIS, Sept. 30.—When announcement was made recently that Joseph Louis Theophile Planel, violinist and composer, long a resident of Paris, had been promoted from a Chevalier to an Officer of the Legion of Honor few persons in Paris and only a small number of Parisians knew that the honor had been conferred upon an American born citizen, one of California's native sons.

Most of the friends of Mr. Planel who know of his citizenship have had it revealed to them by him through the display of an old fashioned photograph of a very small boy standing at attention and holding a very small violin and bow in his hands. The picture bears the imprint of a San Francisco photographer and shows Louis Planel as he used to appear when 5 years old in concert with his father. This was back in the golden days of California, the late 60s.

Mr. Planel's father, a musician, was one of the first Frenchmen to go to California in the great rush that followed the discovery of gold in 1849. He and his wife made the journey by ship by way of Panama, crossing the Isthmus by small boats and on muleback.

Soon after his arrival Planel turned to music rather than to gold seeking and became the musical pioneer of San Francisco by arranging its first orchestra. He had already become an American citizen when his son was born. Young Louis Planel's musical education began along with his instruction in walking and talking, so when a little more than five years old he made his debut in concert as a violinist. Later he appeared as a pianist.

When still a boy Louis Planel was sent to Paris for the completion of his musical education. Although trained for both the piano and violin he preferred the latter and with it soon became an international entertainer.

After the death of his parents he spent most of his time in Paris, where he studied with the great French artists were among his close friends. However, he kept up his residence in San Francisco and for a time returned each year for concert tours. Up to a few years ago he returned at least every four years to vote in the Presidential election.

In 1892 Mr. Planel married Miss Marie Tobey of Paris, who because of her diction often has been called the Bernhardt reader of the French classics. She is an officer of the L'instruction Publique of Paris.

Mr. Planel made his last trip to America in 1909, when he and Miss Planel appeared jointly in concerts and readings in New York, San Francisco and the large cities and also made a tour of Mexico and Central America.

Mr. Planel, who has been a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor for twenty years, and Miss Planel founded some ten years ago the Societe des Artistes de Paris, which embraces instruction in all the arts. Among its patrons are Camille Flammarion, astronomer and writer; Jean Richepin of the Academie Francaise; the Comedie Francaise and the Odon, and gave more than 500 concerts for the soldiers on the battle fronts. Half of these concerts were given in American camps.

Elks Are Planning a Camping Colony Near Asheville, N.C.

Will Have Summer Resort
Owned by Individuals Rather Than Lodges.

Special Dispatch to THE NEW YORK HERALD.

ASHEVILLE, N. C., Oct. 14.—Southward bound travel is commencing earlier than usual this season, as is shown by the many visitors from Northern and Western points now in Asheville. Golf interest this week centered about the autumn women's golf tournament at the Asheville Country Club. Three flights qualified, Mrs. Robert V. Flannery of the San Souci Club being medalist with a low score of 191. Mrs. Irene W. Richardson, representing the same club, defeated Mrs. Thompson Frazier of Asheville for the club championship on the seventeenth hole.

Northmen members of the Order of Elks have started a movement for securing a camping site in the heart of the Blue Ridge National Park, where those belonging to the order may spend the summer at moderate cost. The camp would be owned by Elks throughout the country as individuals and not by lodges. It is planned to offer at least 2,000 shares in this enterprise at $25 a share. A company will be incorporated shortly to launch the scheme. It is probable that Elks lodge in various cities will erect camp huts for use of their own members.

The George Vanderbilt was selected recently as the name of the new hotel to be erected in Asheville this winter by the Citizens Hotel Corporation. The hotel will serve as a monument to the foresight of the late George W. Vanderbilt, who died in 1914, and who was a prominent part in the development of the section. Biltmore, which he founded as a model village for his employees is now a flourishing town, while Biltmore upon it is the Biltmore estate, now occupied by Mrs. Vanderbilt.

Mrs. J. A. Ladd of Garden City, L. I., entertained with a luncheon at the Asheville Country Club on Tuesday for eight guests.

Miss Westray Kirk of Oyster Bay, L. I., has entered Passifera School at Hendersonville, after visiting Mrs. Francis Guder at her home on Victoria road.

Miss May King Daniels has returned to New York after having the house guest of Mrs. Charles Grey at Hendersonville.

Mrs. H. V. Sherrill of New Orleans gave an auction bridge party at the Biltmore Country Club early in the week in honor of Mrs. George Dege of New York, who is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Mewether. Sixteen guests attended the affair.

Mrs. M. A. Douglas and the Misses Katherine and Cioe Donoghue of Flushing, L. I., are occupying a cottage on Merrimon avenue for the winter season.

Charles Redcliffe Haffenden of New York was married to Miss Mary Estes Coates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Coates, at the Church of the Transfiguration at Saluda, N. C. Fred Kolbe of New York was best man, while the ushers were all of New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lockwood have left for New York after a fortnight here. Mr. Neil Kendall of Glen Cove, L. I., is visiting friends in Asheville.

The Battery Park is entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Emil W. Black, Mr. and Mrs. William R. Quinn, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Cozzens, Mr. and Mrs. M. Marzlen, Miss L. Grace Jones, Mr. S. Burdette, Charles H. Gittens, Robert A. Boyd, Edward Chapman, Henry C. Simpson, Walter W. Headwin, C. A. Sartorius, Theodore W. Delaney.

Joseph Byrne, Miss Olive J. Byrne and Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Davidson of New York, and Robert F. Crimshaw of New ark.

Gotham visitors at the Manor include
Mr. and Mrs. Montzer and Miss C. G.
Langdon. Among those frequently seen going on the Biltmore Forest links are
Mr. and Mrs. Martin Vogel, Frank H.

Holmes, H. L. McNulty, James H. Hutchinson and C. F. Gammons of New York, R. M. Stauffer of Montclair, Mrs. J. A. Ladd of Garden City, and Frank C. Cobb of Binghamton, N. Y.

Late arrivals at Margate Terrace include Miss Esther A. Hodson and Miss
Ella M. Hodson of Waterbury, Conn.,
W. M. Wright of Princeton, Mr. and

Mrs. H. P. Howes, Mrs. W. P. Hallibur- ton and Mrs. James G. Watkins of New York, Mrs. D. C. Paul and William Paul of Bronxville, and Walter L. Leach of Middletown, Conn.

Among autumn guests at the Langren are F. C. Whitaker, James Wheeler, C. C. MacManus, Joseph L. Carroll, Vernon K. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. George Sidney, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Schofield, Mr. and Mrs. William McFadden, Miss Katherine Moore, Miss Vivian Hicke- son, W. H. Wharton and James F. Mac- well of New York.

Mrs. C. B. Bryant of Charlotte, niece of Gov. Cameron Morrison of North Carolina, is visiting Mrs. George W.
Vanderbilt at Biltmore.
